The Royal Voluntary Service is looking to recruit volunteers for the Bridge of Earn Lunch Club

As COVID restrictions continue to ease, the Royal Voluntary Service adapt to them by resuming its paused services as and when safe to do so. The focus will shortly be on restarting the lunch clubs; of which the Bridge of Earn lunch club held at the Bridge of Earn Institute plays an important part. Sadly, through the pandemic, a number of well-respected Bridge of Earn lunch club volunteers have retired after many years' service and therefore the Royal Voluntary Service is looking to recruit new volunteers to assist with the weekly running of the club that involves providing clients with a pre-cooked hot meal, some additional refreshments and of course some well needed companionship and chat. As well as recruiting support volunteers, the Royal Voluntary Service will also be trying to bring one or two lead volunteers into the fold to lead on the weekly running of the lunch club working closely with the support volunteers and the employed member of Royal Voluntary Service staff that will oversee it.
